

Stanwood-Camano School District Parents and Guardians,

We will continue to provide daily updates on the district website. When we have critical and time sensitive information, we will use School Messenger, but we will not be sending daily emails and phone calls as we have for the past week.

Today, you will find a listing of online learning resources families can access from home. The link to these resources is on the district's home page under "Other News."

Tomorrow, we will have information about new food distribution protocols and distribution sites. Please check our website for these new locations.
